

Zeolite capsules - Destroxin - anti carcinogenic benefits

(zeolite is the main ingredient in the more popular Waiora water drops)

The scientific community has recently had very positive results on the effects of ZEOLITE powder (a natural volcanic mineral) on certain types of cancers!

In tests on a variety of tumor types, the treatment with micronized ZEOLITE powder led to improvement of overall health status, prolongation of life span, and a decrease in tumor size. Also, in local applications of micronized ZEOLITE powder to skin cancer & external tumors it reduced tumor formation and growth. DESTROXIN contains the same micronized zeolite powder used in these revolutionary studies! Some customers have even unscrewed the capsules and apply this pure zeolite powder to their skin cancer or exposed tumors (similar to what was done in some of the studies).

DESTROXIN is a completely new product that makes it possible to restore the normal ph value of cancerous cells. Tumor cells, which flourish in an acidic environment, escape detection by the immune system in part because ph changed cells are always the body's own cells. DESTROXIN brings all cells equally to a ph value of 7.4 and doesn't differentiate between healthy cells and sick cells. Cancer cells find the higher alkaline environment uninhabitable and will, as far as possible, die within six weeks without being able to duplicate.

DESTROXIN removes toxins, toxic chemicals and heavy metals from the body!

It is well known that chemicals cause over 94% of all cancers contracted by humans. Some of the most harmful carcinogens are aldehydes, ketones, pyrenes, benzpyrenes, benzene, and nitrosamines. Zeolite is one of the few minerals that are negatively charged by nature and actually acts like a magnet in attracting chemicals & toxins from the body! It is shaped like a microscopic honeycomb which also works excellently for filtering the toxins out.

Zeolite was consumed by people in the Chernobyl area after the Chernobyl nuclear reactor accident in the Soviet Union. They also gave it to their children and it successfully removed the toxins and radioactivity from their bodies! It was an intriguing discovery and led to the numerous studies on Zeolite's positive effect on humans.

DESTROXIN which contains the natural mineral zeolite is very powerful antioxidant and ion exchanger which helps your body fight against Free Radicals! The body produces free radicals during the metabolic process, these radicals are also produced by external sources such as air pollution, pesticides, smoke, chemicals, alcohol, radiation, etc. Even though the body has natural protection, it is not strong enough to overcome continuous strong attacks of natural and environmental free radicals. Today, free radicals are recognized as a cause of aging as well as for some sixty chronic degenerative diseases including stroke, arthritis, cancer, cataracts, Alzheimer's, Parkinson's disease, varicose veins, rheumatism, stress, phlebitis, hemorrhoids and senility.

DESTROXIN helps with vitamin & mineral absorption! Studies show that Zeolite has a positive effect on vitamin absorption if taken while eating. In one specific study, a group that consumed their food with zeolite showed a 40% greater absorption of the vitamins and minerals that were in their food!

The Science of Destroxin

For years science has paid special attention to the development and utilization of functional ZEOLITE (especially in Japan and the USA). These alumino-silicates, with a precisely known structure of a given size and form are applicable for many ionic exchange functions, as catalysts for different chemical reactions, as well as in absorption of various materials. Zeolite displays the chemical structures: Al/Na Silicate, Al/Ca Silicate. These crystals build two or four groups with a tetra base structure. It is essentially an alkali metal displaying a very high ph-value..

Summary

DESTROXIN, whose basic substance is natural micronized Zeolite, has a very favorable effect on human health which has already been proven in the world and many articles have been published in medical journals. Acute, sub-acute and chronic toxicology was carried out, and it is important to emphasize that genetic toxicology proved there was no mutagenic effect. Zeolite, a food supplement approved by the FDA, is taken along with medical therapy as an adjuvant a substance which raises the general state of health of the organism. It falls into a group of anti-oxidants just as vitamin C, Beta-carotene, and vitamin E, which absorb free radicals or more simply, unpaired oxygen electrons. Free radicals in the organism occur through our aerobic metabolism, which means in the presence of oxygen. The connection of free radicals to oxygen leads to a series of oxidized damaged cells.

Zeolite absorbs free radicals, it stimulates and restores the defense anti-oxidational system with which the organism defends itself against oxidative stress. Zeolite also acts as an ionic alternator, adsorbent of toxins in the digestive system, an immune-stimulator and has a favorable effect on bone structure.

Zeolite is a natural mineral, which is not reabsorbed by the blood and the digestive tract accepts it like food. Such a mechanism enables long-term application without side-effects and toxicity.

This is the most important mechanism of all anti-tumor therapy. The capacity for action of compounds on the basis of silicon is several times stronger than classical anti-oxidants and, like micronisation (cell fragmentation), will be important in the prevention of many cell impairments which are associated with chronic diseases and for which modern medicine does not have a satisfactory therapy. These are diseases such as cancer, neuro-degenerative disease, auto-immunological diseases of the liver and kidneys, virus diseases.

Tests carried out on Zeolite (same zeolite used in DESTROXIN) by the Californian University of Medicine in Santa Barbara demonstrated the favorable effects it has on several lines of human tumorous cells of which all three Hela, CaCO-2 and HT-29 were inhibited, that is their continued growth was stopped.

Zeolite is a volcanic mineral, 100% natural, non-toxic, and safe!
